

Assignment 5. 10% Research question & purpose.

Write a Topic, Problem, Purpose, and Research Question (and if appropriate one or two sub-questions) for a potential/possible research project of interest to you.

There are many examples in the textbook of problem statements, purpose statements and research questions; review these examples and use them to guide your work (particularly in chapter 5 and previous chapters).

For this assignment, you do not need to reference literature (although you can if you want); what I am looking for is the careful design and articulation of these introductory elements to a research study.

Follow the same formatting as the assignment 2 exemplar.

Maximum two pages in length (excluding title page, and references if you have them).
